Beastly Biomes

By Carly Allen-Fletcher

What kind of biome do you live in and what animals do you share your home with?

Praise for Carly Allen-Fletcher's previous book, Animal Antipodes:

"This ingenious book blends geography with zoology in a fetching way that enchanted me from the front cover to its antipode at the back. I am hooked!"

— David Schwartz, author of How Much is a Million? and G is for Googol

"An engaging nonfiction picture book with vibrant colors, unique text structure, and playful concept to make the subject matter easy to understand."

— JoEllen McCarthy, Literacy Leader and Educator Collaborative Book Ambassador

Sweet Dreams, Sarah

By Vivian Kirkfield • Illustrated by Chris Ewald

Sarah Goode has big dreams. It takes persistence, but Sarah becomes one of the first African-American women to receive a patent.

"Sweet Dreams, Sarah captures the soul of what makes a dream a reality, encapsulating history and heart. With brilliant artwork and strong writing that bring to life post-Civil war history, this book is a beautiful balance of what makes a picture book biography stand out. Sarah Goode's determination and persistence resonate throughout the pages, an inspiration for all readers."

— Nadine Poper, Librarian, Amanda Stout Elementary, Reading PA

"Possibilities happen when the power of will, dreaming, and hard work come together. Told with a bit of heart, much like the heart enclosed in Sarah Goode's envelope, this story will have you rooting for Sarah while teaching us all a little more about history."

— Leah Anderson, author, One Shadow on the Wall

Martin & Anne:

The Kindred Spirits of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Anne Frank
By Nancy Churnin • Illustrated by Yevgenia Nayberg

They seem to be from different worlds, but they were born the same year, 1929. Martin & Anne tells us their inspiring stories, encouraging all of us to choose kindness wherever we can.

"What a powerful picture book! The story and illustrations are inspirational, beautifully relaying to readers of all ages Dr. King's and Anne Frank's uplifting messages of hope and social justice."

—Trudy Ludwig, bestselling author of The Invisible Boy

"This story brilliantly connects two amazing humans by their birth year and by sharing their stories of finding hope in unimaginably dark circumstances. A poignant read for parents and teachers who want their children to build empathy and appreciate how we are all connected, while being full of important history."

—Naomi Chamblin, Napa Bookmine

"A wonderful weaving of the stories of two amazing and courageous people who both answer hatred with love."

—Kristen Carvalho, Board Member, Anne Frank House, Inc of Washington, DC.
